BRIAN'S REPORT

(See attached at end of minutes)

Malik adds to Brian's budget conversation that youth programming budget for the Community Center is a great opportunity. At Councilmember Pedersen's office, there's an ongoing conversation about equity and inclusion. Pay for Play at Magnuson is something that kept coming up at MPAC, i.e., that it wasn't working, so the fact that there are subsidized programs to engage youth living in Solid Ground at Magnuson Park on the budget now is a great win for everyone.

Samantha shares concerns of residents. They hope to have input on the programming at the Park and that strategic decision making can be inclusive of residents. I'd like to make MPAC and Parks aware that the community has not been aware of programming.

Brian talks about MPAC's 2009 charter and its advisory functions. Community Center was originally not a part of MPACs purview because the Recreation Dept runs all community centers in the Parks systems, i.e., does CC programming. A seat on MPAC was added for the Community Center Advisory Council and every CC has one of those seats on the council to advise. During COVID, it was decided to not have the CC Advisory Council ~~at the community center~~. I would be happy to make a communication bridge between the Community Center and the residents.

Samantha agrees it would be a good idea.

Diana Kincaid emphasizes that Councilmember Pedersen should do what he can to keep Laurelhurst Community Center (recently defunded) going. Malik encourages MPAC that he is doing everything he can.

Brian expresses gratitude to Diana, Juli and Elisa for their service on MPAC this year. Diana will talk more about next year. Brian shares map of road ownership within the Park.

Jan wondered along the roads with multiple owners who owns the trees. Brian recommends the Find It Fix It app and if the tree is not within the City's jurisdiction they will alert you who the owner is.

Brian reminds everyone that services of the Community Center have never stopped and are continuing in Building 406 at Magnuson Park while the Community Center building is under renovation. He said it was unusual to have a Community Center operating within a park itself, and that a CC usually gets moved miles away during a CC building renovation.

Brian will be giving a Magnuson Park update tomorrow @ 7:05 pm at the Park's Board Meeting. He will present an update on Building 2, 18 and 47 which had requests for proposals open, there will be an update on public benefit, about MPAC's structure and purpose, and looking to the future for the how the Park is managed. It's a general update for the Park Board. Questions or comments?

Jan wanted to comment on the recommendation about the sport field pellet concerns; Brian had recommended last meeting to contact Andy Sheffer about having them cleaned up. Andy suggests that there is a device to clean up the pellets with a vacuum. They will do this when the new sports fields made of cork, which he assures me is 100% natural, are installed; they will clean up the pellets that have spread around.

Neal introduces Bladimir as the new 2022 MPAC member for Solid Ground. Bladimir speaks to his role at Solid Ground in Property Management and expresses his excitement to join next year.

IMPORTANT MPAC CONVERSATIONS

Diana lists projects that we are excited about or encouraged by:

Safety measures, speed limit signs on 62nd Ave, future swimming pool

Excited about community center and its ability to connect users of the Park, about the future theater renovation. Recognizing tenants at the Park that provide programming and hiring for residents.

Malik asks if there is a newsletter that goes out or a reminder about MPAC's meetings and their offerings. Neal comments that they are starting up a newsletter.

Malik asks group how the MPAC is effectively communicating with the "community" they keep talking about. Brian responds that there are two resident seats and one staff seats on MPAC from each SG and Mercy. Our expectation is that everyone on the slate represents a stakeholder group and they will be sharing the MPAC information with their folks.

Samantha hopes that there would be an on-site resident services person on the MPAC slate. The paid representatives of Solid Ground and Mercy should be doing survey data and communications, not the resident seat holders.

Brian suggests bringing the communication conversation offline, in order to move forward on the agenda.

MPAC 2022

Diana asks the group what role would you like to see MPAC play next year?

Jan thanks Diana for the list of things to not get lost from year to year. Jan adds to the list the environment – concerns for air, water, land.

Juli encourages folks who are going to be continuing next year should speak up on what they would want to see happen next year. One idea we discussed previously was the possibility of one meeting every other month.

Brian brings up that there are not a group of people stepping up for the chair, vice chair and secretary position. Going every other month may be a good idea to make the meetings substantive. If there is no chair for next year, however, I don't see how we move forward since no one is creating the Agenda.

Jan offers to be the person putting agendas together if someone would lead the meetings.

Mary Ellen encourages the once a month model, asking each member what's bothering them each month.

Samantha states ~~and~~ agreement with Malik about being intentional about how MPAC operates.

Juli emphasizes that the resident seats are most important to have on MPAC.

Samantha comments that the building managers need to be gathering data and feedback from residents on larger issues.

Elisa suggests maybe having in person meetings at Mercy or Solid Ground, maybe with an open invitation to residents. Folks who want to come in would be able to. ~~Lauren~~Lindsey agrees that Mercy could host.

Brian reminds that we are not able to meet in person because of COVID, but that things may change or that participants may be required to produce vaccination proof.

Diana again encourages people to step up into leadership roles for next year. That her experience has been incredible, the friendships she's developed have been meaningful and also that the couple years as the chair working with Juli and Brian have been great. We have been aligned in a lot of our vision and really believing in equity. Welcome to those of you who are new. It's a challenging place and not always easy. But it is one helluva place that we are really lucky to have.

Meeting adjourns. 7:30
